

PRIMARY RESULTS STILL IN DOUBT

ROOSEVELT AND SOCIALIST MAYOR HAVE A TIFF

By Associated Press.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 7.—The Germans had their day with Roosevelt today. Beginning the day with a tiff with Milwaukee's Socialist mayor, Emil Seidel, who is a German, Roosevelt put in the scheduled hours of his visit by roaming about the city at will, making his own program as he went.

The Milwaukee Press club had the colonel in hand. In honor of the day the club issued the first and last edition of the "Big Stick Newspaper," which was devoted exclusively to Roosevelt's affairs. In it there was a letter from Mayor Seidel explaining why he would not serve as a member of the committee to welcome Roosevelt. He considered something which the colonel had written about socialism as unkind, and said the colonel could not expect him to welcome him.

Before breakfast Roosevelt issued a reply, telling the people he would prefer to have them read what he had written rather than what the mayor said about what he had written. The colonel visited the Boys' trade school, the Girls' Training school and later the Deutscher club. Tonight he made an address at the auditorium. The colonel will leave in the morning for Freeport, Ill.

BALLINGER SPEAKS BITTERLY OF DETRACTORS

By Associated Press.
SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 7.—Ballinger, at the Arctic smoker in honor of Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel and Attorney General Wickersham tonight spoke bitterly of his detractors. "With my consciousness of rectitude in every act, both public and private, and with a determination to go forward in the same path, I don't fear the criticism of any man or set of men," said the secretary. "It is time for men to stand by the laws of the institutions of our fathers. From the head of the administration through all the departments there is a determination to uphold the constitution and laws and hand them down unimpaired."

"It has been said that the criticism of me, whether true or untrue, made me unfit to hold office. In this case, then, every public man may be disqualified by attacks of the disingenuous, the hypocrite and the fanatic. I don't propose to enter a plea of guilty, because there is not one particle of truth in all the allegations brought against me."

The secretary was received with applause when he was introduced by United States District Judge Cornelius Hanford, who made the Ballinger-Pinchot committee meet at Minneapolis his subject. The judge declared that Ballinger had been "singled out as an object of malevolence by muckrakers." He denounced the action taken at Minneapolis as an "outrage unparalleled."

Election Returns From the Outside Are Coming in Slowly.

RENO, Nev., Sept. 7.—Contrary to reports first received, it is now conceded by the regulars that George Springmeyer, the "insurgent" candidate for the nomination of attorney general, won over Hugh Brown. The nomination of Governor Dickerson and what is known as the Dickerson Democratic ticket, is confirmed.

CARSON CITY, Nev., Sept. 7.—E. E. Roberts, "insurgent" candidate for congress, claims he was nominated over Douglas, the regular Republican, by a majority of 300.

"Who's who in Nevada" is the question of the hour with reference to the standing of several candidates for state office. Interest is centered in the Oddie-Massey and Brown-Springmeyer fights, and from reports received from the north yesterday afternoon, the two races are quite close. An attempt was made last evening, in fact several attempts were made, to secure the standing of the candidates from the incomplete returns, but the efforts were unsuccessful.

A dispatch received at 7 o'clock stated that Oddie had received 1882 votes against 1935 for Massey, but it is not known how many votes from Southern Nevada were counted in this showing. It is known that Nye county gave Oddie 485 votes against 27 for Massey, with a large number of precincts yet to hear from. With this ratio, Oddie should have over 600 majority when the final count is made public. His majority in Goldfield is also creeping up, and the partial returns last night gave him 336 votes, while Massey received 127.

A dispatch from Rhyolite contained the following information with reference to the Republican candidates:

Douglas, 11; Roberts, 26; Oddie, 37; Massey, 1. Balzar, 22; McMillan, 14. Brown, 27; Springmeyer, 10. Booth, 28; McCarthy, 11.

During the afternoon a dispatch was received from Reno stating that Blakeslee, the Southern Pacific representative, conceded the nomination of Oddie. The returns are coming in slowly and it will be several days yet before the final returns will be in. Several of the counties have sent out no information whatsoever.

According to the Associated Press dispatch, Springmeyer is the victor in the fight for the attorney generalship over Hugh H. Brown, but this is not regarded as certain, for the outlying precincts may change the complexion of the affair.

It is believed that W. W. Booth won the nomination for state printer over J. G. McCarthy. According to the incomplete returns for Nye county, Charles Enquist is leading in the fight for sheriff and assessor nomination.

George Swasey was successful in his fight for the nomination of constable of Tonopah township.

Key Pittman was conceded the Democratic candidate for United States senator with a handsome majority. Sweeney also ran.

Gilbert Ross made a fine run and landed the nomination for lieutenant governor.

Cleve Baker was successful in his fight for attorney general.

The superintendent of state printing is somewhat in doubt, but indications point to the nomination of Joe Farnsworth.

It is impossible to determine the outcome of the three-cornered fight for state mine inspector, as many of the returns sent out by telegram contained no announcement of this office.

J. E. McNamara and James Timlin are running close for the nomination of county clerk.

Frank Mannix has the nomination for county treasurer with a neat majority.

Puddy Grimes will be the candidate for auditor and recorder, and it is believed that he will carry every precinct.

T. O'Connell will be the candidate for the long term commissioner, while indications point to the nomination of Charles Humphrey for the short term.

There is no way to determine the successful seven candidates for the assembly, as the unheard-of precincts can make great changes in the present standing.

The following are the totals of the Republican vote at the four Tonopah precincts. The contested offices are the only ones given:

Representative in congress—Douglas, 136; Roberts, 177.

SAYS BALLINGER SHOULD NO LONGER RETAIN OFFICE

By Associated Press.
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 7.—The condemnation of Ballinger in the administration of the department of the interior and the declaration that he should no longer retain the office, were contained in a resolution adopted today by five members of the congressional committee, which is investigating the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy. These five, four of whom are Democrats and one Republican, assert that their vote is binding upon the committee as a whole. This, however, is disputed by the other three members of the committee, who were present today.

But five of the twelve members of the committee voted for the adoption of the resolution, which was offered by Representative Madison of Kansas, an "insurgent." Consequently the question arises to what action, if any, the full committee may take. The question of no quorum being present and the time the resolution was adopted will probably be attacked when the whole committee meets. When the committee met eight members were present, constituting a quorum. But before the voting was reached Senator Sutherland of Utah and Representative McCall of Massachusetts (Republicans) withdrew. Chairman Nelson remained but took no part. The Republicans assert that the withdrawal of the two committeemen broke the quorum.

In this view Representative Madison joins, and said: "The final action has not been taken. No report has been adopted, and the majority can, of course, if it sees fit, reverse today's action." The resolution adopted today is believed to be along the line of a minority report, which is being prepared for presentation possibly at the meeting Friday. Madison is preparing an independent minority report which, it is said, will sustain Pinchot.

The resolution adopted says: "The charges made by Glavis against Ballinger should be sustained; that in the matter of the disposition of the Cunningham coal lands, Ballinger was not a faithful trustee of the interests of the people; that the charges made by Pinchot should be sustained; that Ballinger's course in the administration of the interior department was characterized by lack of fidelity to the public interests, and that the secretary should no longer be retained in that office."

WOOL DULL; PRICES FIRM.

By Associated Press.
BOSTON, Sept. 7.—Although business in the wool trade is dull, prices are firmly maintained. The demand centers chiefly on territorial wool of half-blood grade and below. No territory fleeces are moving moderately, while quite a few transactions comprise original packages. Dealers are by no means urging manufacturers to take the best territory wools in quantity at prevailing prices for the former are confident that better prices will be obtained later.

"WHITE SLAVE" LAW BEGINS TO WORK

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—The first indictments under the Mann "white slave" act, passed by congress June 25, were returned by a federal grand jury today. The indictments are against Nettie Jenkins of Houghton, Mich., and Ethel Culver of Chicago. They are charged with conspiring to place two young Chicago girls in a resort at Houghton. The women waived examination and gave bail.

CONSERVATION NOT UNDERSTOOD BY THE PEOPLE

Noted Kansas Speaker Appears Before Conservation Congress and Defines His Ideas.

By Associated Press.
ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 7.—With dazzling presidential and ex-presidential luminaries shedding their powerful rays, the National Conservation congress became visible today. The important addresses of the day were made by James J. Hill, Senator Beveridge and Secretary of agriculture Wilson. Hill let fall a shower of epigrams at the expense of the national government and was applauded. Beveridge waxed eloquent to quite a different purpose, and was well received. Gifford Pinchot, who was almost lost sight of during the period of the presidential presence, suddenly found himself in the limelight, and received an ovation. Tears sprang to his eyes, and were still in his voice when he said a few words of thanks.

John B. White, of Kansas City, said that the true leaders of conservation have been misunderstood by press and people.

"Even in Alaska," he said, "the best known teachers of conservation urge the development of all the resources for the benefit of the people. They wish to encourage pioneering both on a small and on a large scale. It is not the purpose of conservation to preserve from exploration and discovery unknown resources. If there can be found new fields for men brave and fearless enough to take the risks of life and capital incident thereto, there is called into action every bit of physical or mental energy to meet conditions that seem insurmountable. It is not our purpose to hamper or retard, and say that this risk and cost shall be left entirely to future generations. We are willing

MAY TAX STATE OF CALIFORNIA FIVE MILLIONS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 7.—After disposing of the Panama-Pacific exposition and constitutional amendments as far as possible until they will be put in final shape by the conference of the senate and assembly committees, the special session of the legislature adjourned this afternoon until tomorrow morning to allow the members an opportunity to visit the state fair.

The senate adopted two amendments providing for a state tax of five millions and a municipal bond issue for a like sum by the city of San Francisco, without amendment. Several amendments taken on by the assembly will require at least a part of the session tomorrow to complete the task for which the legislature was called.

At the close of the senate session the last of the governor's appointees for state offices were sent to the senate for ratification. All the appointments were accepted with the exception of William Henshaw of Oakland, nominated for reappointment as state fish and game commissioner. His defeat was accomplished by a vote of 13 to 22. Among the appointments confirmed was E. C. Cooper for insurance commissioner.
